A draft or non-identical copy is a separate document within the meaning of this term.

Instructions

Unless conclusively negated by the context of the request, the following instructions are applicable to all requests:

- A. You shall restate each document request in full before responding to it. Each document request must be accorded a separate answer. You shall first set forth verbatim the document request to which it is responsive before setting forth its response. You shall not combine requests or subparts thereof for the purpose of supplying a common answer. The answer to a document request or subpart must not be supplied by referring to the answer to another request for documents unless the request for documents or the subpart referred to supplies a complete and accurate answer to the request for documents or subpart being answered.
- B. Each document request seeks production of the documents in their entirety, without abbreviation or expurgation.
- C. Each request produced must appear in the form, order, and condition that they are in on the day that these document requests are served, including all comments, notes, remarks, or other materials which may have been added to documents subsequent to their initial preparation. Documents that in their original condition were stapled, clipped, or otherwise fastened together must be produced in such form.
- D. Documents not otherwise responsive to a request must be produced if such documents refer to, relate to, or explain the documents called for in this Request, or if such documents are attached to documents called for in this Request and constitute route slips, transmittal memoranda or letters, comments, evaluations, or similar documents.
- E. If the answer to the request is “none,” the word “none” shall be written in the answer.
- F. If documents responsive to any request are not in your possession but within your control, if you have the right to secure the document or a copy thereof from another person or public or private entity having actual possession thereof, identify the person in possession or custody.
- G. If any document was, but is no longer, in your possession or subject to your control, state what disposition was made of it, by whom, and the date or dates or approximate date or dates on which such disposition was made, and why.

- H. If you object to any request on the grounds of privilege, your response must identify the nature of the responsive information and specify the claimed privilege in a log, consistent with Rule 26(b)(5).
- I. Where the term "identify" is used in reference to an individual or person, it asks for the person's full name, present or last known address, and when referring to a natural person, the present or last known place of employment.
- J. Where the term "identify" is used in reference to a document or writing, it calls for a description of the type of document or writing, the date it bears, its general subject matter, author, present or last known location, date of transfer, and custodian, including the same identifying information for the custodian as required for all persons as set forth above.
- K. If any document request cannot be complied with in full, you shall comply with it to the extent possible, with an explanation as to why full compliance is not possible.
